EPL/Environmental Advocates is one of the first organizations in the nation formed to advocate for the future of a state's environment and the health of its citizens. Through lobbying, advocacy, coalition building, citizen education, and policy development, EPL/Environmental Advocates has been New York's environmental conscience for more than 40 years. We work to ensure environmental laws are enforced, tough new measures are enacted, and the public is informed of—and participates in—important policy debates. EPL/Environmental Advocates is a nonprofit corporation tax exempt under section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code.

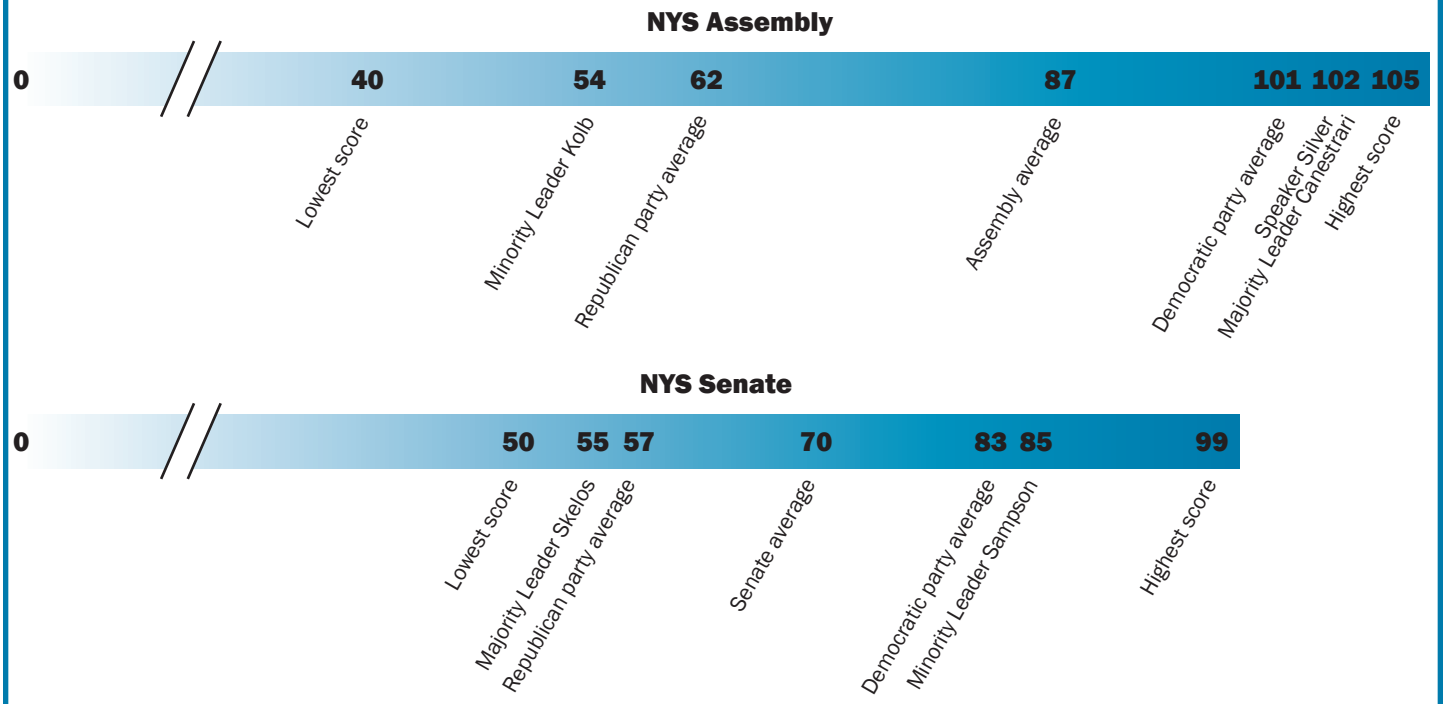
A Quick Look at the Scorecard



How Scores are Calculated

To calculate legislators' scores, EPL/ Environmental Advocates uses ratings developed by our sister organization, Environmental Advocates of New York.

Legislators earn between 1 and 3 points respectively for votes in support of bills rated by Environmental Advocates of New York as 1, 2, or 3 "tree" bills. Tree-rated bills are those that will benefit the environment. Legislators earn between 1 and 3 points respectively for votes against bills that are given a rating of 1, 2, or 3 "smokestacks." Smokestack-rated bills are those that will harm the environment.

The Assembly voted on four of the environmental community's five legislative priorities, the Super Bills; the Senate voted on two.

Legislators earn points for supporting Super Bills as follows:

Co-sponsoring: Lawmakers receive half-credit (1.5 points of a 3-tree bill) for Super Bills they sponsored or co-sponsored. However, if a Super Bill is voted on, the vote is counted in the score, and credit is not given for co-sponsorship. Members of the minority party who request to be added as co-sponsors also receive co-sponsorship credit.

Becoming law: If a Super Bill is passed by both houses and signed into law, all legislators who vote for it receive 3 points plus 2 bonus points. This year, two Super Bills were signed into law (Water Resources Protection Act and Complete Streets). As such, members who voted for these bills received 2 bonus points per correct environmental vote (up to 4 bonus points total), resulting in several lawmakers with scores greater than 100 percent.

Incompletes: Legislators who miss more than 20 percent of votes receive a score of incomplete (INC).

2011 legislative WRAP-UP

Two Steps Forward, One Roll Back

Fresh off retaking the state's upper house, New York's Republican-led Senate attempted to roll back a host of environmental protections during the 2011 Legislative Session.

The State Senate passed a near-record eight bills that are bad for our environment this year, which totaled 13 smokestacks in the scoring system of our sister organization, Environmental Advocates of New York. The last time Republicans held the upper house, in 2008, the majority passed only four bills worth six smokestacks.

This year, the Senate attacked funds for public transit, which would increase fares and pollution downstate. The Senate Majority also tried to let polluters off the hook for oil spill clean up costs, allow monster ATVs to roam free, and grant unfettered access to timber in sensitive wetlands.

Inexplicably, the Senate did nothing to protect New Yorkers from the dangers of gas drilling called hydraulic fracturing, or "fracking," even though recent polls show more Upstate New York voters oppose gas drilling. Upstate opposition to fracking is rampant and will impact legislators come election day when each vote can make a big difference.

But all was not lost. Bad bill after bad bill ran aground in the reliably green Democrat-led State Assembly.

The Green Gap

As a result of this bad bill bonanza, most members of the Senate Majority received failing grades this year. And in a sad reversal, the gap in green scores between Senate Republicans and Democrats ballooned from 10 points in 2008 to 26 this year.

Despite this, two of the environmental community's "Super Bills" made it across the finish line. New York has new laws that will reduce wasteful water withdrawals and require transportation projects to consider features that encourage people to get out of their cars. The two bills were passed without controversy in both houses.

Both houses also passed Power New York, which will allow customers to pay for energy efficiency improvements on utility bills. The bill also establishes a streamlined power plant siting process with community participation and environmental performance standards.

Calling the Green Lantern

The Assembly reaffirmed its green cred this year by churning out votes on good environmental bills. Four out of five Super Bills passed the lower house by wide margins. Speaker Sheldon Silver and Environmental Conservation Committee Chair Robert Sweeney's leadership remains strong.

A few Republican senators are vying for green hero status in 2012. Senator Greg Ball held the only hearing by a majority sponsor on gas drilling and also introduced anti-fracking legislation. Senator James Seward has called on his colleagues to take up his bill to provide for more local control of gas exploration. Senator Michael Nozzolio has expressed concerns about fracking, as well.

The Governor's Record

Governor Cuomo's next steps on fracking will cement his environmental legacy. As of this writing, the Governor appears poised to open the state to drilling next spring, a catastrophic mistake.

Questions remain about the true costs of drilling to the state and local governments, what to do with fracking wastewater, and whether state agencies will have the capacity to make sure the oil and gas industry doesn't cheat. Fast-tracking fracking would sully the Governor's otherwise good record.

Because thanks to Governor Cuomo's leadership this year, the Environmental Protection Fund remained safe from harm after years of debilitating cuts. The Governor also led the way for passage of Power New York, helping communities influence where power plants are sited.

In the build up to one of the most contentious election cycles in memory, what happens on fracking and other environmental issues will help determine who controls the statehouse. Take note New York, because only EPL/Environmental Advocates lets you know the score.

legislator OF THE YEAR

Barbara Lifton (D – Ithaca)

Assembly member Barbara Lifton is among New York's most steadfast environmental champions. A consistent top scorer in our annual Voters' Guide, this year Lifton distinguished herself from her colleagues thanks to her commitment to ensuring New York's irreplaceable waters and the health of our families are safeguarded from the dangers of gas drilling by means of hydraulic fracturing, or "fracking." In 2011, she sponsored several pieces of legislation designed to protect New York's air, waters, lands, and communities from fracking, and was the prime sponsor of a bill that would clarify local government authority in relation to fracking.

Assembly member Lifton has rallied her colleagues, been outspoken in the press, participated in countless citizen forums, and worked the halls of the Capitol to persuade her peers to put protecting our natural resources ahead of oil and gas company profits. Overall, she has provided a much-needed voice of reason in the State Legislature with regard to the dangers of fracking. For this and many other reasons, she is our 2011 Legislator of the Year.

HONORABLE mentions

Robert K. Sweeney (D – Lindenhurst)

Assembly member Robert Sweeney, Chair of the Assembly's Environmental Conservation Committee, has been a longtime supporter of environmental protection measures. Under his steadfast leadership, the Assembly passed four of the five 2011 Super Bills (see page 6). Assembly member Sweeney worked especially hard to secure passage of the Water Resources Protection Act. This new law establishes a permitting program for large water withdrawals, providing protection for New York's most valuable resource—our water. He continues to be the go-to legislator for environmental bills, and for that we are most grateful.

Mark Grisanti (R – Buffalo)

Freshman Senator Mark Grisanti showed initiative as Chair of the Senate's Environmental Conservation Committee this year. He worked hard to steer the Water Resources Protection Act through the Senate. Although the legislation had strong bipartisan backing, it was stalled until the very end of the Legislative Session. Thanks to his unwavering support and effective arm-twisting, the bill made it to the floor for a vote and is now state law. Senator Grisanti also championed a bill to use unclaimed bottle deposits to support the Environmental Protection Fund.

Charles J. Fuschillo (R – Massapequa)

Senator Charles Fuschillo was the driving force behind Complete Streets legislation this year, a Super Bill and top priority for the environmental community and our transportation colleagues. This new law requires transportation projects eligible for state and federal funding to consider incorporating features that encourage walking, biking, and alternative modes of transportation. When implemented, Complete Streets features get cars off the road, reduce pollution, and make our streets safer for all of us.

OIL SLICK award

Lee Zeldin (R – Hauppauge)

Freshman Senator Lee Zeldin earns this dubious honor for his efforts to harm New York's air, land, and water. Despite being one of the newest players in the upper house, he distinguished himself by pushing a few really bad bills. Senator Zeldin sponsored the only bill worthy of three smokestacks in 2011—a bill that would defund the MTA and result in service cuts and fare increases, and discourage the use of public transit. That would increase climate pollution and traffic congestion—bad news for our air quality and for people with asthma.

But what put this bill over the top was the provision to send money from the state's clean energy programs to plug holes in the MTA's finances. Talk about robbing Peter to pay Paul. Long Islanders are especially sensitive to raiding funds to fill budget gaps based on recent experiences with the state's Environmental Protection Fund, from which hundreds of millions of dollars have been raided. Thankfully, this dirty bill didn't pass both houses.

Senator Zeldin also worked tirelessly to repeal the state's saltwater fishing license, which was intended to make saltwater fishermen pay for the cost of the Department of Environmental Conservation's (DEC) oversight. The loss of revenue from this repealed license would have cost the DEC $2 million, but now thanks to Zeldin, freshwater fishermen across the state and John Q. Taxpayer are subsiding Long Island fishermen.

The Senator also sponsored a bill to allow the Village of Patchogue to divert funds meant for sewage infrastructure improvements to other projects. This is especially appalling given that in 2009, the State Comptroller cited the village as a community with aging sewer and wastewater infrastructure in desperate need of repair.

Senator Zeldin is a man with a mission—and that mission is attacking public transit. For his lack of commitment to protecting our air, land, wildlife, and waters, EPL/ Environmental Advocates gave Lee Zeldin our 2011 Oil Slick Award. We hope next year we can help the Senator start off on better footing.

bill SUMMARIES

Super Bills

SUPER BILLS are legislative priorities chosen by the Green Panel, which includes representatives from New York State's leading environmental groups. Super Bills that are not voted on are scored on bill sponsorship. For more information, see page 2.

1. Water Resources Protection Act

Requires the Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) to establish a permitting program for large water withdrawals and a registration/reporting program for large agricultural withdrawals. Directs the DEC to create a water conservation and efficiency program. A.5318-A (Sweeney, et al.)/S.3798 (Grisanti, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on August 16, 2011.

2. Global Warming Pollution Cap

Establishes a limit on greenhouse gas emissions from all sources in New York and requires that the limit not be greater than statewide emissions for the year 1990. Statewide limit is to be reduced until emissions are 80% below 1990 levels by 2050. A.5346 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.2742-A (Avella, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

3. Solar Industry Development & Jobs Act

Establishes a solar photovoltaic (PV) market by creating an obligation for utilities and energy service companies to produce or procure a set percentage of generation from solar PV. Establishes target of 5,000 MW of installed solar PV capacity by 2025. A.5713-C (Englebright, et al.) died in Assembly Ways & Means Committee. Similar bill, S.4178-A (Maziarz, et al.), died in Senate Finance Committee.

4. Closing the Fracking Waste Loophole

Makes all hazardous waste produced by oil and gas drilling subject to regulations for hazardous waste generation, transportation, treatment, storage, and disposal that apply to other industries in New York. A.7013 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.4616 (Avella, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

5. Complete Streets

Requires transportation projects eligible for state and federal funding to consider incorporating "Complete Street" design features where appropriate. Complete Streets will encourage walking, biking and public transit, reducing pollution. A.8366 (Gantt, et al.)/S.5411-A (Fuschillo, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on August 15, 2011.

3 Tree Bills

Bills with 3 trees will bring major benefits to New York's environment, if implemented.

6. Recyclables in Landfills

Prohibits disposal of recyclable materials in landfills and incinerators and identifies materials for mandatory recycling, such as newsprint, glass, metal containers, and certain plastics. A.1241 (Colton, et al.)/S.3029 (Grisanti, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

7. Wetlands Protection

Ensures protection of freshwater wetlands of one acre or more in size. A.3374 (Sweeney, et al.) passed Assembly; not introduced in Senate.

8. Healthy Green Procurement

Establishes protocols for purchase of services, commodities, and technologies by state agencies in order to minimize adverse impacts on environment and public health. A.6366-A (Sweeney, et al.) passed Assembly; not introduced in Senate.

2 Tree Bills

Bills with 2 trees will bring substantial benefits to New York's environment, if implemented.

9. Allegany State Park Gas Drilling Protections

Sets standards for accessing private mineral rights within Allegany State Park. Requires surface access permit from Office of Parks, Recreation & Historic Preservation for exploration or production of privately controlled oil or gas rights beneath state-owned land within the park. A.393-A (Hoyt, et al.)/S.4720 (Young, Serrano) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on September 23, 2011.

10. Environmental Impact Reports

Requires the Department of Environmental Conservation to issue biennial report listing areas most adversely affected by existing environmental hazards, providing a useful tool to address environmental injustices in New York. A.611 (Peoples-Stokes, et al.)/S.2703 (Serrano, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

11. Environmental Justice Advisory Group

Incorporates environmental justice principles into state agency decision making. Establishes permanent Environmental Justice Advisory Group within Department of Environmental Conservation and Environmental Justice Interagency Coordinating Council to report on effectiveness of policies. A.947 (Peoples-Stokes, et al.)/S.5838 (Parker) passed Assembly; died in Senate Rules Committee.

12. Mercury Thermostat Collection

Encourages safe collection of thermostats that contain mercury by requiring manufacturers to collect out-of-service thermostats or provide a financial incentive to increase collection rates. A.3485 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.5600 (Savino) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

13. Power Procurement

Requires utilities to meet customers' energy needs while taking appropriate measures to minimize volatility of energy prices, including consideration of demand-side measures such as energy efficiency and clean distributed generation. A.5606 (Brennan, et al.) passed Assembly; not introduced in Senate.

14. Environmental Protection Fund Awareness

Requires that public outreach about projects funded by the Environmental Protection Fund (EPF) include information about EPF as funding source to increase public awareness of fund's environmental and economic benefits. A.5663 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.4056 (Grisanti, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on August 3, 2011.

15. Hydraulic Fracturing Moratorium

Suspends issuance of new permits for drilling of wells using hydraulic fracturing in New York until June 1, 2012. A.7400 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.5592 (Carlucci, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

16. Power New York Act 2011

Allows customers to pay for energy efficiency improvements on their utility bills. Establishes streamlined power plant siting process with robust community participation and enhanced environmental protections. A.8510 (Cahill, et al.)/S.5844 (Maziarz, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on August 4, 2011.

1 Tree Bills

Bills with 1 tree will benefit New York's environment, if implemented.

17. Private Well Testing

Stipulates that sales contracts for properties serviced by private drinking water wells include requirements to test wells for various contaminants, and that test results be shared with appropriate agencies. A.667 (Jaffee, et al.)/S.2709 (Grisanti, Duane) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

18. Bans Mercury-Added Consumer Products

Prohibits sale or distribution of certain consumer products containing mercury. A.668 (Jaffee, et al.)/S.3888 (Grisanti, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on May 17, 2011.

19. Cadmium Ban in Novelty Products

Prohibits sale of novelty products (including jewelry, toys and ornaments) containing more than 0.0075% (75 parts per million) cadmium after June 1, 2013. A.1158 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.2729 (Fuschillo, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

20. Natural Gas Drilling Home Rule

Clarifies that local governments may enact or enforce local laws of general applicability related to gas drilling provided such laws do not regulate the oil, gas and mining industries. A.3245 (Lifton, et al.)/S.3472 (Oppenheimer, et al.) passed Assembly; died in Senate Environmental Conservation Committee.

21. Recharge New York

Makes energy-efficiency and energy audits a criterion upon which awards for New York's Power for Jobs and Energy Cost Savings Benefits (ECSB) are based. A.5021 (Cahill, et al.)/S.3164 (Maziarz, et al.) died in Assembly Energy Committee; passed Senate.

22. Increased Penalties for Wetland Violations

Increases and better defines civil and criminal penalties for violations of New York's freshwater wetlands law. A.5638 (Sweeney, et al.) passed Assembly; not introduced in Senate.

23. Deca-Brominated Flame Retardant Ban

Prohibits manufacture, sale, or processing of consumer products containing decabromodiphenyl ether (deca-BDE), a suspected carcinogen, for use as flame retardant. A.5798 (Sweeney, et al.) passed Assembly; not introduced in Senate.

24. Renewable Energy Credit Tracking

Establishes renewable energy credit certification and tracking system. A.6114-B (Hevesi, et al.)/S.3872-B (Maziarz, et al.) died in Assembly Ways & Means Committee; passed Senate.

25. TRIS-Brominated Flame Retardant Ban

Prohibits sale of products intended for use by infants and children, including toys, car seats, nursing pillows, and strollers containing flame retardant chemical TRIS (TCEP (TRIS [2-chloroethyl] phosphate) beginning December 1, 2013. A.6195-A (Sweeney, et al.)/S.4085-A (Grisanti, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on August 1, 2011.

26. Remote Net Metering

Authorizes customers whose renewable resource is not immediately adjacent to location where energy is used to participate in net metering. A.6270-B (Crespo, et al.)/S.3407-A (Maziarz, et al.) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on June 1, 2011.

27. Transmission Follows Energy Plan

Directs Public Service Commission to ensure that new transmission infrastructure conforms with state energy plan and considers impact on environment before issuing certificate of environmental compatibility and public need. A.7399 (Cahill)/S.5626 (Parker) passed Assembly; died in Senate Energy and Telecommunications Committee.

28. Carmans River Protection Act

Conserves Carmans River watershed and adds nearly 1,000 acres to Long Island's Central Pine Barrens, protecting drinking water and habitats and promoting economic growth. A.8265 (Sweeney, et al.)/S.5663 (LaValle, Zeldin) passed Assembly and Senate. Signed into law by the Governor on September 23, 2011.

1 Smokestack Bills

Bills with 1 smokestack will be detrimental to New York's environment, if implemented.

29. Statewide Skidder Authorization

Allows timber harvesters to cut trees in freshwater wetlands using access trails and heavy machinery without obtaining permits from Department of Environmental Conservation. A.4781 (Magee, et al.)/S.4361 (Young, et al.) died in Assembly Environmental Conservation Committee; passed Senate.

30. Farm Dam Safety Exemption

Transfers state oversight for dams located on farms from Department of Environmental Conservation Dam Safety Bureau to Department of Agriculture & Markets. If enacted, this legislation would exempt dams from proper oversight and regulation. A.5865 (Gunther)/S.791 (Young, Ranzenhofer) died in Assembly Agriculture Committee; passed Senate.

31. Special Interest Permit Exemption

Statutorily exempts maple syrup industry from obtaining water discharge permits that may be required by Department of Environmental Conservation. A.7657 (Magee)/S.5499 (Ritchie, Gallivan) died in Assembly Agriculture Committee; passed Senate.

32. Brownfield Tax Credits for Electricity Generation, Port Jefferson

Makes windfall tax credits from NYS' Brownfield Cleanup Program available to Long Island electricity generation station. S.5698 (LaValle) passed Senate; not introduced in Assembly.

2 Smokestack Bills

Bills with 2 smokestacks would do substantial harm to New York's environment, if implemented.

33. Gas Tax Holiday

Suspends taxes on motor fuel on Memorial Day, Independence Day, and Labor Day weekends, and encourages New Yorkers to drive individual vehicles instead of using public transportation. A.7297-A (Tedisco, et al.)/S.4880-B (Ball, et al.) died in Assembly Ways & Means Committee; passed Senate.

34. Oversized ATVs

Allows heavy, large, and environmentally damaging off-road vehicles (up to 1,500 pounds, under the definition of "all terrain vehicle") to be registered in New York as ATVs. A.7743 (Magee, et al.)/S.3318 (Ritchie, et al.) died in Assembly Transportation Committee; passed Senate.

35. Polluter Spill Liability Removal

Removes strict liability for petroleum spills and makes it more difficult for Department of Environmental Conservation to recover costs from those responsible for oil spills.. A.8192 (Schimminger)/S.5418-A (Grisanti, Maziarz) died in Assembly Environmental Conservation Committee; passed Senate.

3 Smokestack Bills

Bills with 3 smokestacks would likely result in major or lasting harm to some aspect of New York's environment.

36. MTA & Clean Energy Defunding

Decreases commuter mobility transportation tax implemented to support public transportation in NYC metropolitan area, which would result in further service cuts, rising costs for public transit riders, and increased pollution. Redirects $100 million in dedicated, clean energy funding to fill resulting budget hole. A.8193-A (Latimer, et al.)/S.5596-A (Zeldin, et al.) died in Assembly Ways & Means Committee; passed Senate.

what YOU can do now that you know the score

Hold legislators accountable. If they voted to weaken New York's environmental safeguards, send lawmakers a note expressing your disapproval. If your legislators are working to protect New York's environment, write to thank them.

Vote at the local, state, and federal level. Your vote is critical when it comes to whether or not New York State protects the air we breathe, the water we drink, and the health of our families.

Contact your lawmakers. The New York State Legislature is in regular session every year from January to June. While they are scheduled to meet for six months, in recent years budget negotiations have led to lengthier sessions and "special sessions." Write your legislators: New York State Assembly, Albany, NY 12248 or New York State Senate, Albany, NY 12247.

Find out who represents you. Visit www.assembly.state.ny.us or www.senate.state.ny.us or call the New York State Senate at (518) 455-2800 or the State Assembly at (518) 455-4100.

Support our work. Visit www.eplvotersguide.org to support New York's first environmental advocacy group working in the state capital.
