MANAGING PARTNERS

JOSH HARRIS

Managing Partner

Josh Harris is the Managing Partner of the Philadelphia 76ers. Josh's family history in Philadelphia is deeply rooted—all four of his great-grandparents settled there, each of his four grandparents lived in the city and his parents met there. Following in his father's footsteps, Josh attended the University of Pennsylvania, witnessing the iconic 76ers championship in 1983 during his time there.

Under the leadership of Josh Harris and David Blitzer, the 76ers have grown to be one of the NBA's 10 most valuable franchises (Forbes) and have quickly emerged as one of the fastest-growing global sports brands. The team has widened its portfolio through a variety of organizations and initiatives.

Josh and the 76ers are active in the Philadelphia and South Jersey communities through charitable giving and partnerships with hospitals, youth centers, schools and food distribution centers. In 2015, the Sixers Youth Foundation was established to focus on youth development across the Delaware Valley. In 2024, Josh saw the Sixers Youth Foundation raise more than $1.9 million for the youth of Philadelphia, Camden and the Greater Delaware Valley, the most ever in the Gala's six years. In 2016, the team unveiled a new $86 million training complex in Camden, New Jersey. The project not only created a new world-class and innovative practice facility for the team but demonstrates the team's commitment to the area and its revitalization along the waterfront.

The Philadelphia 76ers are a part of Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment (HBSE), which includes a diverse portfolio of sports and entertainment franchises. Josh is the Founder of HBSE, as well as Managing Partner of the NHL's New Jersey Devils and the NFL's Washington Commanders.

In 2022, Josh founded 26North, a next-generation alternatives platform that invests across a variety of strategies, including Private Equity, Credit, and Insurance solutions.

Prior to 26North, he co-founded Apollo Global Management, and spent over 30 years building the firm into a leading global alternative investment manager and one of the largest alternative credit managers.

Across his platform - including through his foundation, Harris Philanthropies - Josh is committed to using a blend of philanthropic giving and impact investment to improve outcomes for underserved groups in communities where he has a deep connection. Specifically, Josh is focused on supporting vulnerable youth through sports and educational programming, championing equity and sustainable wealth creation in diverse communities and enhancing health, wellness and educational outcomes.

Josh serves on the Boards of Harvard Business School, the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania, the NBA and the NHL. He holds an MBA from Harvard Business School, where he was named a Baker Loeb Scholar, and graduated summa cum laude from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business with a B.S. in Economics.

He and his wife Marjorie have five children and have been married for 29 years.

DAVID BLITZER

Co-Managing Partner

Blitzer is the Co-Founder and Co-Managing Partner of Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment (HBSE), which includes in its portfolio the New Jersey Devils (National Hockey League), Prudential Center in Newark, New Jersey, the Philadelphia 76ers (National Basketball Association), and the Penn Medicine Philadelphia 76ers Training Complex in Camden, New Jersey. Under HBSE's umbrella, properties have grown to include Wollman Rink in New York City, an investment in five-time NASCAR Cup Series champion Joe Gibbs Racing, the Delaware Blue Coats (NBA G League), the Utica Comets (American Hockey League), the Dignitas e-sports franchise, White Eagle Hall in Jersey City, New Jersey, and HBSEv, a venture fund.

David has a diverse portfolio of additional sports and entertainment properties. He is the managing partner of Real Salt Lake (Major League Soccer) and the Utah Royals (National Women's Soccer League). David also owns stakes in Crystal Palace Football Club of the English Premier League, FC Augsburg of the Bundesliga, and Brøndby IF of the Danish Superliga amongst other international soccer properties. Additionally, he is a minority owner of the Cleveland Guardians (Major League Baseball), the Washington Commanders (National Football League),

DARYL MOREY

President of Basketball Operations

Daryl Morey was hired as President of Basketball Operations for the Philadelphia 76ers in November 2020. Daryl's 63% winning percentage represents the best mark in franchise history. The 76ers have qualified for the playoffs all four seasons since Morey's arrival and are one of five NBA teams with 200-or-more regular-season victories during that span.

Overall, Morey's career includes 17 seasons as the lead decision-maker between Houston and Philadelphia, an 841-517 (.619) record, and the 2017-18 NBA Executive of the Year award. His 62% winning percentage ranks fourth all-time among NBA executives with at least 1,000 games of experience. Between 2007-24, Morey-led teams have never had a losing season, winning 50-plus games nine times, while qualifying for the postseason on 13 occasions.

Prior to joining the Rockets as assistant general manager in 2006, Morey served three years as Sr. Vice President of Operations for the Boston Celtics. Originally from Ohio, Morey is a graduate of Northwestern University and also holds an MBA from MIT where he serves as the co-chair of the school's annual Sports Analytics Conference.

the school's annual Sports Analytics Conference.

ELTON BRAND

General Manager

Elton Brand enters his seventh season as General Manager of the Philadelphia 76ers in 2024-25. During Brand's tenure as general manager, the 76ers have qualified for the postseason each year, while compiling a 295-178 (.624) regular-season record, the second-highest winning percentage in the league. Philadelphia is 169-66 (.719) at home over Brand's six seasons as general manager, including a league-best 29-2 (.935) mark at The Center in 2019-20 and an Eastern Conference leading 29-7 (.806) record in 2020-21.

Over his tenure, Brand has helped reshape the 76ers roster, most recently aiding in the signing of nine-time NBA All-Star Paul George in July of 2024 to partner with a superstar duo in Joel Embiid and Tyrese Maxey. Brand made several transactions in 2018-19 - his first as general manager with the franchise - bolstering the foundation of a team that eventually won 51 games. Philadelphia went 31-10 at The Center that season, the most such home wins by the team since 1989-90.

In 2022-23, the 76ers compiled a 54-28 record (.659), the team's best under Brand, and its best since the 2000-01 season. It also marked the third time in Brand's first five seasons as general manager that the team reached the 50-win mark, the second-most in the NBA during that stretch. Six-time All-Star Joel Embiid earned his second consecutive scoring title (33.1) en route to winning the NBA's Most Valuable Player Award, the franchise's first such honor since Hall of Famer Allen Iverson in 2000-01. Under Brand's guidance, the 2021-22 76ers finished the regular season 51-31, in fourth place in the Eastern Conference. In 2020-21, Brand played a key role in constructing a roster that posted the 76ers' best record in 20 seasons, earning the No. 1 seed in the Eastern Conference playoffs.

Brand's success as general manager comes following a 17-year playing career, during which he spent parts of five seasons playing for the 76ers. Prior to assuming the GM role with the 76ers, Brand spent the 2017-18 season in the same capacity with the Delaware Blue Coats, a role in which he oversaw all personnel moves related to the 76ers G League franchise. Following his retirement from the NBA, Brand spent the 2016-17 season with the 76ers as a player development consultant. Overall, Brand played in 1,058 NBA contests (868 starts) over 17 seasons with Chicago, the Clippers, Philadelphia, Dallas and Atlanta, making two All-Star appearances (2002 and 2006). He posted averages of 15.9 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2.1 assists and 1.7 blocks per game, while shooting .500 percent from the field and .736 percent from the free-throw line in 33.0 minutes per game. His 1,828 blocks place him 22nd all-time in NBA history.

In addition to his role within 76ers basketball operations, Brand is an active community ambassador, serving on the boards of both the Sixers Youth Foundation and Philadelphia Film Society. He sponsors young people through the Urban Affairs Coalition's Summer Youth Employment Program, which provides paid summer job opportunities and support to youth ages 14-18. The six-week program includes career exposure, on-the-job mentoring and professional development. Brand recently completed the High-Potential Leaders program at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, where he worked closely with Wharton's leadership experts and other high potentials from around the world in a dynamic, interactive environment. In addition to his studies at Duke and UPenn, Brand also studied institutional and environmental racism at Philadelphia's Lincoln University in 2015.

NICK NURSE

Head Coach

Hired by the Philadelphia 76ers on June 1, 2023 as the 26th head coach in the franchise's rich history, Nick Nurse's basketball journey can be measured in miles and milestones: from the British Basketball League to NBA Champion; from the Rio Grande Valley of the G League to the Olympics; from the youngest college coach in the United States to the NBA's Coach of the Year. He is intrigued by innovation and improvisation in sports, books, and in his other great love, music. Both on and off the basketball court, he is inspired by legendary coaches like Phil Jackson and renowned musicians like jazz master Thelonious Monk. Nurse is a life-long learner who graduated in 2022 from Concordia University Chicago with a PhD in philosophy, with an emphasis in sports leadership. In his 40s, Nurse took up several musical instruments, and is currently working on improving his piano and guitar skills. A native of Carroll, Iowa, Nurse played basketball at and graduated from the University of Northern Iowa, and then began his coaching career at age 23, when he became the head coach of Grand View College in Des Moines. He moved to Europe in 1996 to follow his hoop dreams, and stayed there for 11 years, winning nine championships while in the British Basketball League. His time in the NBA's D League – now known as the G League – with the Iowa Energy and Rio Grande Valley Vipers taught him that the ability to improvise is something that a basketball coach can use, just like a jazz pianist. Despite ever-shifting lineups and challenging situations, Nurse was both a G League champion and G League Coach of the Year in 2011. Nurse joined the Raptors in 2013 as an assistant coach and took over as the franchise's head coach of in June 2018. That first season, one day short of his one-year anniversary at the helm, he became the ninth rookie head coach in NBA history to win a league championship in their first year. The following year, Nurse was named NBA Coach of the Year, an award presented to him while in the NBA's "Bubble" – coaching under the most unusual circumstances while the world grappled with a global pandemic. On the international stage, Nurse coached Great Britain's men's senior basketball team when it hosted the 2012 London Olympics, and served as head coach of the Canadian Senior Men's basketball team from June 2019 to June 2023. Nurse lives in Media, PA with his wife, Roberta. He has three sons: Noah, Leo, and Rocky. He carries his guitar on the road, and is a lifelong fan of Prince, the Chicago Cubs, and the L.A. Rams. In 2020, he started the Nick Nurse Foundation, which aims to improve the lives of young people through literacy, sports, and music. The foundation provides mentoring, instruments, and opportunity so youth from underrepresented communities can flourish on the court, the stage, or in whatever path they choose for themselves. "Let's help the kids see a brighter future. Let's give them a more positive self-image. Let's give them opportunities they may not have had, whether it's books or basketballs or basketball shoes or instruments or lessons or getting them part of a band or taking them out onstage in front of somebody to lift their self-image - or any strands of all those things where they may be able to see a career or a future," Nurse says. "And we just want to do that to the best of our ability with the foundation."

HARRIS BLITZER SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT LEADERSHIP

TAD BROWN

Chief Executive Officer, Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment

Entering his fourth season as CEO of the Philadelphia 76ers and Harris Blitzer Sports & Entertainment, Tad Brown has helped the 76ers organization further solidify itself as one of the top franchises in professional sports. The 76ers clinched their seventh straight postseason appearance this year, winning 47 regular season games, representing Philadelphia's seventh consecutive winning season. This is the franchise's longest such streak since posting 12 consecutive winning seasons from 1975-87.

Meanwhile, off the court, the team had a record-breaking year with the addition of multiple blue-chip partners, while leading various community initiatives throughout the Greater Philadelphia community. Last January, the Sixers Youth Foundation Gala raised more than $1.9 million for the youth of Philadelphia, Camden and the Greater Delaware Valley, the most ever in the Gala's six years. In addition to the Gala, the organization has continued to prioritize community engagement during Brown's tenure as CEO. Over the course of the 2023-24 season, the 76ers led or supported programs that positively impacted more than 50,000 members of the community across nearly 200 events, including dozens of events that leveraged the power of sports to inspire and uplift youth.

The 76ers also remain focused on driving equitable opportunities throughout the city as evidenced by the inclusion of Reading Terminal Market throughout this season. The 76ers' 2023-24 City Edition uniform drew inspiration from the Market, shining light on Philadelphia's historic public market and the merchants who make it special. Throughout the season, the 76ers hosted several events at Reading Terminal Market and featured some of the small businesses on their social and digital platforms.

Additionally, Brown oversaw the continuation of the 76ers Spirit of Small Business Program which celebrates, supports and uplifts small business owners in the Greater Philadelphia area. During the 2023-24 season, the 76ers highlighted the stories of more than 30 diverse small businesses across the 76ers' digital and social media platforms, amplifying their businesses to more than four million followers.

Under Brown's leadership, the 76ers have consistently prioritized world-class resources for the team and its players, while delivering a best-in-class experience to the passionate fans. In addition to announcing plans to build a privately-funded new arena, 76 Place at Market East, in time for the 2031-32 NBA season, Brown spearheaded the 76ers' $10-plus million renovation of its locker room and team space at the Wells Fargo Center, vastly improving the areas in which the team's players and staff operate on gamedays.

Prior to joining HBSE, Brown spent nearly two decades with the Houston Rockets, Toyota Center and Clutch City Sports and Entertainment, 15 of which were spent as CEO. In his role in Houston, he was a member of the NBA's Board of Governors, served as the representative to the Executive Committee, and served on the league's Media Committee. Over his tenure, Brown helped position the Rockets as one of the NBA's premier global franchises, as well as a cornerstone of the Houston community. The business thrived under his leadership, setting Toyota Center records for sellouts, attendance, total events, and customer satisfaction. Additionally, Houston hosted NBA All-Star Weekend in both 2006 and 2013, as Brown played a key role in making Toyota Center the first NBA building to have two All-Star Games over a seven-year period. His extensive knowledge of media rights helped fuel the Rockets growth, including the creation of the Houston Regional Sports Network in 2012, now established as AT&T SportsNet Southwest. In 2017, Brown orchestrated the sale of the Rockets by Leslie Alexander to Tilman Fertitta for a then-NBA and global sports franchise record $2.2 billion.

KEY NOTES

- The Philadelphia 76ers ended the 2023-24 campaign with a 47-35 (.573) record, marking their seventh consecutive winning season. That represents the franchise's longest such streak since doing so 12 straight times from 1975-87.
- Philadelphia ranked ninth in the NBA in points allowed (111.5), sixth in the league in opposing three-point field-goal percentage (35.4% 3FG), and tied for the league lead in steals (8.5).
- The 76ers limited the opposition to fewer than 100 points on 16 occasions this season (fourth in NBA), going undefeated in those games.
- The 76ers ranked second in the NBA this season with an 82.6-percent mark from the free-throw line. That also represents the second-highest mark in franchise history (83.5% FT, 2022-23) and the 10th-highest in NBA history.
- On March 31, 2024, the 76ers made a franchise-record 24 three-pointers against Toronto.
- Philadelphia's 46 wins this season up its tally to 244 wins since the start of the 2019-20 season. That represents the fourth-most wins in the league across those five seasons.
- Philadelphia put together two eight-game winning streaks in 2023-24 (Oct. 28-Nov. 12; March 31-April 14), making the 76ers one of three teams in the NBA to register multiple such streaks. It is also the second time since 2002-03 that the franchise recorded multiple eight-game winning streaks in the same season.
- Joel Embiid (34.7 ppg, 5.6 apg) and Tyrese Maxey (25.9 ppg, 6.2 apg) were one of three sets of teammates throughout the NBA this season to average at least 25.0 points and 5.0 assists (min. 30 games played). The other duos include Dallas' Luka Dončić and Kyrie Irving and Phoenix's Devin Booker and Kevin Durant.
- With averages of 34.7 points, 11.0 rebounds, and 5.6 assists, Embiid became the second player in NBA history to average at least 34.0 points, 11.0 boards and 5.0 assists over a 39-game span, joining Hall of Famer Wilt Chamberlain.
- Embiid and Maxey both produced three 50-point games last season, becoming the first teammates in NBA history to individually notch three 50-point games in the same season.
- Embiid and Maxey also combined to average 60.6 points, making them the second-highest-scoring duo in NBA history over a single season (Oklahoma City's James Harden and Russell Westbrook in 2019-20).
- In his 39 appearances, Embiid averaged career marks in points (34.7), three-point percentage (38.8%), free-throws made per game (10.2), free-throw percentage (88.3%), assists per game (5.6), and steals per game (1.2).
- Embiid totaled 1,353 points in 1,309 minutes played during the 2023-24 campaign. The only player in NBA history to score more points while averaging at least one point per minute was Wilt Chamberlain in 1961-62 (4,029 points in 3,882 minutes).
- Embiid's season was highlighted by a franchise record-setting scoring performance with a 70-point game on Jan. 22. This career-best performance was the second-highest scoring game of the season across the league.
- Tyrese Maxey was selected to his first All-Star Game this season, making him the fifth-youngest player in franchise history to receive the honor.
- Maxey's All-Star season included setting career-high marks in points (25.9), rebounds (3.7), assists (6.2), and steals (1.0). He also registered three 50-point games, including a career-high 52 points on April 7 at San Antonio.
- Maxey's 212 three-pointers represent the third-most by a 76er for a single season in franchise history. Only JJ Redick (240 in 2018-19) and Kyle Korver (226 in 2004-05) had more threes in a single campaign.
- Kelly Oubre Jr. tallied 1,049 points and 47 blocked shots in his first year with Philadelphia, both representing the second-best marks of his career. His 114.1 offensive rating was the best single-season mark of his NBA career.
- Philadelphia native Kyle Lowry signed with the 76ers on Feb. 14 and averaged 8.0 points and 4.6 assists in his 23 appearances with the team. His two point-assist double-doubles with Philadelphia ranked third on the team in 2023-24 and represent his highest total since 2021-22.
- KJ Martin came to Philadelphia in a trade on Nov. 1 and went on to average a career-high in steals (1.0). He also shot 53.6-percent from the floor, his second-highest mark in four NBA seasons.
- Ricky Council IV appeared in 31 games as a rookie with the 76ers, averaging 5.5 points on 48.2-percent shooting, and 1.4 rebounds in 9.1 minutes per game. He has logged at least 10 minutes of action in 11 of his 31 appearances, producing 10.5 points on 54.2-percent shooting.
- Jeff Dowtin Jr. appeared in 12 games with the 76ers, averaging 4.4 points on 50-percent shooting from three-point range, 1.6 rebounds, and 2.4 assists in 12.3 minutes of action. In his third professional season Dowtin Jr. set single-game career highs in points (12), assists (six), and steals (three) throughout the season.

HISTORY OF 76ERS GENERAL MANAGERS

The 76ers didn't have a general manager after the team debuted in Philadelphia in May 1963. Attorney Ike Richman performed some of the duties of the job between 1963 and 1966, but it wasn't until Jack Ramsay was named to the position in 1966-67 that the team had a GM.

CLUB NICKNAME

The late Walter Stahlberg, of West Collingswood, New Jersey, won a contest to name the club in 1963. The choice of the club's nickname was announced on Aug. 6, 1963. There were almost 500 different suggestions among the entries and Stahlberg was one of several who picked the 76ers. However his accompanying 25-word explanation was deemed the best by the judges, and he and his wife received an all-expense trip to the West Coast to see the 76ers play San Francisco.

2017-PRESENT: 2017 brought on an updated look for the Philadelphia 76ers, with the unveiling of the team's new Icon Edition (Blue), Association Edition (White), Statement Edition (Red) uniforms. The new Icon and Association uniforms introduced a hard-red drop-shadow behind the iconic "PHILA" lettering and player numbers. The new designs also include the words "Brotherly Love" embroidered in gold on the bottom of each jersey, drawing inspiration from the Greek translation for "Philadelphia." The Statement uniform displays "Sixers" in cursive across the uniform's chest plate. The cursive writing serves as a salute to the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

2015-2017: On June 18, 2015, the Sixers revealed new home (white), road (blue) and alternate (red) uniforms which were designed using elements from different eras in franchise history. "PHILA" is emblazoned across the chest of the home and road jerseys as a homage to the 1966-67 Championship team. The alternate red jersey has "SIXERS" sprawled across the front, to honor the 1982-83 Championship team. All three uniforms are decorated with a column of stars down each side in the fashion of the 1976-77 uniforms. Each jersey also has the phrase "PHILA TOUGH" sewn into the waist-level hem, visible only to the players prior to being tucked in.

2009-2015: Prior to the 2009-10 season, the Sixers re-designed their uniform to feature the team's new primary "76ers basketball" logo with the red, white and blue color scheme. Trimmed in blue and red, the team will wear white uniforms with blue lettering and red numbers at home. On the road, the team will wear red uniforms, trimmed with blue and white, that feature white lettering and numbers. In the summer of 2010, the uniforms underwent some minor revisions, including blue piping added around the neck and shoulders among other aesthetic details. The Sixers also debuted an alternate blue uniform in the 2012-13 season opener.

2007-2009: Both the Sixers home and road jerseys underwent a bit of a facelift in the summer of 2007. Influenced by the secondary red road uniform, which was introduced the previous season, the home and road designs featured a refined red taping stretching from the jersey to the shorts. The material itself was also completely overhauled, as the new fabric was Adidas clima-cool flatback mesh on the front with open-holed metallic stretchair fabrication on the back and in key venting zones through the front of the shoulders.

2007-2009: During the 2006-07 season, the 76ers unveiled a new second road uniform with red as the predominant color accented by the team's other official colors of white, blue, black, silver and gold. Produced by Adidas, the jerseys featured a new "PHILA" wordmark across the front in a design similar to the team's primary logo, as well as blue and white striping around the V-neck. The red shorts are adorned with the Sixers secondary logo above a blue accent on the side of the left leg.

1999-2006: Philadelphia added a new second road uniform during the 1999-00 season. The blue jersey sports a stylish new cut that's full of tradition from the great Sixers teams of the 1960's and 1970's. Trimmed in red and black, the jersey featured the "SIXERS" wordmark on the front with white numbers trimmed in red.

1997-2007: Prior to the 1997-98 season, the Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. For the first time in franchise history, the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the jersey that features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red on the back. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red.

1994-1997: This uniform was actually a throwback to the classic Sixers look. Designed by Lucy Loeb, the front featured "SIXERS" in a more ornate block lettering. This garb was white with red and blue trim at home and red with white and blue trim on the road.

1991-94: The Sixers uniform was redesigned by Champion Products and was a departure from the classic Sixers uniform. The design featured multicolored stars against a royal blue field that curved up from shorts to the jersey. The background of the away uniform remained red.

1978-91: The NBA begins to regulate uniform changes more closely. A rule is installed by the league requiring teams to use an exclusive outfitter and alert the NBA one year in advance of a design change. This uniform becomes the Sixers' hallmark, with the numeral surrounded by stars on the shorts. The road color returned to red. The uniforms were manufactured first by Wilson, then by Sand Knit. The 76ers played more games in this uniform (1,066) than any other in the history of the franchise.

1977-1978: The lettering on the jersey was readjusted, with home uniforms lettered in blue and outlined in white and red, while away uniforms were royal blue with white lettering in red trim.

1976-1977: Another one-shot uniform surfaced, this time with a theme. In honor of the Bicentennial, the team turned to the cursive lettering and trim numerals of the 1970-71 season. The new uniforms were designed by Pat Williams, Al Domenico, Billy Cunningham and Sonder Levitt Advertising.

1971-76: SonderLevitt Advertising designed a uniform that had a much longer lifespan than its predecessor. With the new art deco-like lettering, the uniforms retained the star-inset blue side stripe, a graphic element that remained a feature through the 70's. Away uniforms were royal blue with white side stripes and stars.

1970-71: With its red-in-blue and cursive lettering, the Sixers next official home uniform (the old red garb was retained for away games), did not please Sixers suppliers. Midseason trades meant impossible turnaround times for these custom-sewn, flowing script uniforms. In the middle of the season a switch is made and "Seventy Sixers", in script, replaces "PHILA" on the front of the uniform.

1966-70: The Sixers went to the straightforward look during their first championship run. Simple block letters with the traditional "PHILA" on the front replaced the star-spangled banner look. Road uniforms became red with blue lettering and white trim.

1965-66: A two-tone uniform with a high waistband and long, baggy trunks was introduced. The players considered it flashy and uncomfortable to play in and it was abandoned after one season.

1963-65: The Sixers opened their run in Philadelphia with a Betsy Ross-inspired uniform (below). Adorned with a circle of stars on both the shorts and the back of the jersey surrounding the player's number, the stars quickly became a hallmark of the Sixers uniforms. The road uniform was dark blue with red lettering and numbers. Midway through the '64-65 season, the style of the letters and numbers was changed.

* Early draft records are incomplete, so until 1956 players are listed alphabetically.

Beginning in 1957, the draft is recorded round-by-round. To enable teams to take advantage of the regional popularity of college stars, they were given the option of forfeiting their first-round pick and instead selecting, before the start of the draft, a player from the franchise's immediate geographical area. These "territorial picks," as they were known, are not factored in to the overall selection count of the draft. The territorial option was in effect through 1965.

*The 76ers played just 73 total games in 2019-20 due to the coronavirus pandemic. The team's final eight regular-season games and all playoff games were played on the NBA Campus in Orlando, Florida without fans in attendance.

*Though the 76ers played 72 regular season games in 2020-21, only 31 of those dates featured a live attendance. During the postseason, attendance numbers dramatically increased as the Covid-19 vaccine was rolled out.

*The 76ers played just 73 total games in 2019-20 due to the coronavirus pandemic. The team's final eight regular-season games and all playoff games were played on the NBA Campus in Orlando, Florida without fans in attendance.

*Though the 76ers played 72 regular season games in 2020-21, only 31 (17 home, 14 road) of those dates featured a live attendance. During the postseason, attendance numbers dramatically increased as the Covid-19 vaccine was rolled out.

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING:

* Denotes that a player played for more than one team during that particular season and the team-by-team breakdown was not available. Each respective stat line is reflective of the entire season's statistics, which also affects the player's total stat lines.

(n) Denotes years played in the NBL with Syracuse, before the Nationals joined the NBA in 1949-50. NBL statistics are factored in to individual NBA totals, but do not affect team statistics/records.
