ST. LOUIS MEDICAL SOCIETY

The St. Louis Medical Society, host to the annual meeting of the Southern Medical Association, has a long and enviable reputation in the history of American medicine. The records of its founding in 1835 and the minutes of its early meetings are still in existence. The dozen practitioners, who at that time formed an outpost of progressive medical thought, were well educated and well trained, most of them in the European centers, some of them in Ohio and Kentucky. Their discussions centered about such problems as the miasmas, childhood fever, diphtheria, and prominently, delirium tremens. It was at their instigation that the early medical schools were formed, which through a series of metamorphoses and reincarnations became the two present great medical schools, Washington University and St. Louis University.

On the rolls of the St. Louis Medical Society are found many well-known names of authors and investigators. It has a membership of 1,232.

The first meeting place, the "Masonic Hall" of that period, was supplanted by increasingly capacious quarters until today the Society is housed in its own magnificent modern building at 3839 Lindell Boulevard. Here under the auspices of the President and his local committees, it will extend the hospitality of the Society to its welcome guests.

The officers of the Society are: Dr. Edwin C. Ernst, President; Dr. Rogers Deakin, First Vice-President; Dr. Claude D. Pickrell, Second Vice-President; Dr. Peter G. Danis, Secretary; Miss Aileen M. Patton, Assistant Secretary; Dr. F. G. Pernoud, Treasurer; Dr. Fred Kramer, Editor; and Dr. Armand D. Fries, Associate Editor.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

In addition to the St. Louis Medical Society there is a St. Louis County Medical Society for the physicians living in St. Louis County outside the independent city of St. Louis. The County Society has a membership of 235 and is cooperating with the host society in making the St. Louis meeting a great success. The officers of the St. Louis County Medical Society are: Dr. F. L. Finley, President; Dr. A. J. Steiner, Vice-President; Dr. C. E. Sanders, Secretary; Dr. W. F. O'Malley, Treasurer; and Dr. Clyde P. Dyer, Editor.

WOMEN PHYSICIANS

The thirtieth annual meeting and dinner for Women Physicians of the Southern Medical Association will be held at St. Louis, Wednesday, November 15, at 6:30 p. m. at the Jefferson Hotel. Dr. Esperanza Oteo de Hoogh, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, will speak. Dr. Grace A. Goldsmith, New Orleans, Louisiana, Chairman of Women Physicians of the Southern Medical Association, will preside.

Dr. Emma Phelan, 5321 Bartmer Avenue, St. Louis 12, is Chairman, and Dr. Grace Scholz Mountjoy, 4459 Floriss Place, St. Louis 15, is Co-Chairman.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Southern Medical Association will not have a meeting this year at St. Louis.

In these wartimes when only essential meetings should be held, the Executive Committee of the Council of the Southern Medical Association, which is the Advisory Committee to the Woman's Auxiliary, decided that the Southern Medical Association meeting at St. Louis should be limited to scientific activities, that all non-scientific and non-medical activities should be omitted, that there should be no official entertainment and that all official social and semi-social activities be omitted. Since the Woman's Auxiliary is non-medical and its activities are largely for entertainment and are of a semi-social nature, the Advisory Committee requested the Auxiliary to omit their meeting this year.

The president and officers of the Auxiliary are supporting their Advisory Committee one hundred per cent and have gracefully withdrawn their meeting at St. Louis. All officers of the Auxiliary will hold over for another year. It is anticipated that conditions next year will be such that the Southern Medical Association can have all the activities that it usually has at annual meetings and that the Auxiliary will then have the program activity that it usually has at these annual meetings.

LUNCHEON CLUBS

The following luncheon clubs of St. Louis extend a most cordial invitation to all members in attendance upon the Southern Medical Association meeting who are members of these clubs in their home city to have lunch with them:

Rotary Club, Thursday, November 16, 12:00 noon, Statler Hotel.

Kiwanis Club (downtown), Thursday, November 16, 12:15 noon, Statler Hotel.

Lions Club (downtown), Wednesday, November 15, 12:15 noon, Statler Hotel.

Cooperative Club, Wednesday, November 15, 12:00 noon, Statler Hotel.

Executives' Club, Tuesday, November 14, 12:15 noon, Statler Hotel.

Optimist Club, Friday, November 17, 12:00 noon, Statler Hotel.

Civitan Club, Friday, November 17, 12:15 noon, Statler Hotel.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Executive Committee of the Council charged with the responsibility of plans for the St. Louis meeting decided that in keeping with the spirit of the times, this being a wartime meeting, there should be no official entertainment or social activities in connection with the St. Louis meeting for the men or the women, that all non-medical activities be omitted. There will be no president's reception and ball, no alumni reunion dinners or fraternity luncheons, and no golf or trap-shooting tournament.

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE FOR VISITING LADIES

Mrs. F. G. Pernoud, President, and Mrs. Bennett Y. Alvis, President-Elect, Woman's Auxiliary to the St. Louis Medical Society, will head a Hospitality Committee, some members of which will be on the Mezzanine Floor of the Jefferson Hotel on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, to greet and be of any service they can to visiting ladies. Since the Executive Committee of the Council of the Southern Medical Association, with the approval of the Council, has for this wartime meeting omitted all official entertainment and social activities, all non-medical activities, for both men and women, there will be no formal or planned entertainment or social activities for visiting ladies. The Hospitality Committee will have a room on the Mezzanine at the Jefferson Hotel where visiting ladies may get together to knit, play bridge, etc. The Hospitality Committee hopes to have the privilege of personally welcoming on the Mezzanine at the Jefferson all ladies who are in attendance upon the St. Louis meeting.

TECHNICAL EXHIBITS

Municipal Auditorium

At the St. Louis meeting may be expected only the highest type group of technical, sometimes called commercial exhibits, attended by a group of specialized and courteous representatives who are concerned only with being of service to those physicians attending the meeting.

A policy adopted five years ago for making the exhibits more worth while has been generally accepted by the various commercial houses and personnel of the various booths will be found willing at every turn to keep the exhibits on a dignified plane.

The policy is concerned with (a) selling, (b) samples and (c) souvenirs and for clarification purposes we wish to expound briefly on these phases in the following short explanations: (a) The atmosphere of the exhibit is to be that of show and demonstration and not of selling. Should a physician wish to purchase an item on display it is permissible for the exhibitor to take his order for the item either for delivery from the booth or to be sent later—the technical exhibits are for the benefit of the attending physicians. (b) Samples and literature may be displayed within the exhibit and may be given out at the exhibit when the desire for them is indicated. It is permissible for those calling at exhibits to have their names taken for samples and literature to be sent from the home office of the exhibitor. (c) Souvenirs of any description cannot be given away at any exhibit or at any point in the Auditorium.

The object is to make the Technical Exhibits more definitely a scientific and educational part of the Southern Medical Association meetings and therefore worth definitely more to attending physicians.

Be sure to visit the Technical Exhibits.

See page 90 for names of exhibit firms.
