

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS MAP & DIRECTIONS

All Third District Day programming will take place in the Member's Room, located in the Library of Congress. Please see instructions below for finding the Library of Congress, as well as the Member's Room itself.

Finding the Library of Congress: Thomas Jefferson Building

The Library of Congress, Thomas Jefferson Building, is located at 10 First Street, SE, Washington, DC 20540 (image below). The carriage entrance reserved for event attendees, researchers and staff is located on the ground level at the center doors (image attached). If you are traveling by a rideshare or cab, please be sure to use the 10 First Street, SE, Washington, DC 20540 address as there are multiple Library of Congress buildings located on Capitol Hill.

The Member's Room

Originally the special reading room for the members of the House of Representatives and later the Council of Scholars Room, this room is used today by members of the United States Congress. It features 11-foot walls of oak paneling, wood carving in the arches over the doors, a beamed ceiling with paintings in the ceiling panels, fireplace mantels of Italian Siena marble at the north and south ends of the room, and mosaics over the mantel.

Finding the Member's Room

Once entering the Library of Congress and going through the security, turn right and go up the marble staircase. When you reach the top of the staircase, turn right. You should see the entrance to a long corridor, in between the Library of Congress gift shop and display cases. Walk down this hallway; the Member's Room is located on the right hand side, the door is labeled 'LJ 162: Member's Room'. The photos below provide visual references to help you locate the Member's Room, along with floor plans of the Library of Congress. Our staff and Library of Congress staff will be on hand to direct you to the Member's Room if you need assistance.
