Second section lists all known aircraft flying with F-W prefixed registrations at the time of going to press - aircraft include Manufacturer's prototypes, as well as some Replicas and Homebuilts.

Production lists

In the following production lists the manufacturer's serial number/constructor's number is followed by the exact type, and in the third column all known registrations/serial numbers. The latter are presented with the earliest at the top, and latest at the bottom. A large proportion of those listed below were supplied to the French Armed Forces, where the c/n also serves as the serial number. In these cases this is not repeated, but the exact service in abbreviated form - Armee de l'Air (Air Force) - AA; Aviation Legere de l'Armee de Terre (Army) - ALAT; Marine Nationale/Aeronavale (Navy) - MN; and Centre Essais en Vol - CEV. We regret that individual aircraft codes in French military service are not recorded, there being too many unknowns, and frequent changes during the service life of many aircraft. One exception to this, however, is the addition of the permanent 2/3 digit codes applied to some French Navy Alouettes (e.g. 1013 MN "13", and 1594 MN "594"). Gendarmerie codes are shown thus - F-MJBE - the last three appearing on the aircraft.

AIRFIELD GUIDE

This list is a substantially revised and updated version of that which appeared in the last edition of this volume, and includes all known major civil airfields, a substantial number of the smaller fields, military establishments used by flying clubs on joint-user or weekend basis, and manufacturers' airfields. As on the last occasion regular changes in individual airfield status may on occasion be omitted, thus the editor would be delighted to hear of any such amendments.

The name of the town is followed by the airfield name, which usually refers to its precise location - alternative names are given where appropriate, and cross reference is often made. The location Department number is followed by an indication of the field situation in relation to the nearest town together with a brief description of any special use/user. The letter M signifies a military field, and M/C Joint military/civil.

FOREIGN REGISTERED AIRCRAFT

It has not been possible to compile a comprehensive list of aircraft of non-French registry based in France. However, appended below are details of Boeing 747's and DC-10's used by Air France and U.T.A. on lease from American finance companies, notably the Wilmington Trust Company. Most were allocated French registrations which in all cases were not taken up (and usually reallocated).

If you want to know more about AIR-BRITAIN, then read on . . .

This book is just one example of the in-depth treatment which has been the hallmark of Air-Britain Monographs for approaching twenty years. Of course, this is not the only type of Monograph which Air-Britain publishes for the aviation enthusiast and historian.

The Monographs publishing programme includes

COMPLETE and CURRENT CIVIL REGISTERS for the majority of the countries of the world
PRODUCTION HISTORIES covering civil airliner types and their military derivatives
AIRLINE FLEETS the pocket-size lie-flat annual listing of around 900 of the world's airline fleets
MILITARY TITLES including Squadron Histories of the Royal Air Force, the Stirling File and the RAF K, L, N, P and R Serials
UK REGISTERS the definitive current listing entering its 17th edition in 1981, and complete historical details of all aircraft in selected registration blocks, published intermittently.

These books form part of a continuing programme and all are available to Air-Britain members at reduced rates compared with the normal public sale price.

But this is not the only benefit you can enjoy from Air-Britain membership.

For £8 a year you could receive

SIX copies of our A4-size illustrated house journal DIGEST, devoted to articles of aviation interest, written largely by members, plus either TWELVE issues of NEWS or FOUR issues of AEROMILITARIA or ARCHIVE; or DIGEST plus two of these three magazines for a further £3, or all four magazines for a total of £14.

AIR-BRITAIN NEWS is published monthly in A5-size, and minimum 24-page issues contain

- 1) the most complete coverage of the UK civil scene available
- 2) "Commercial Scene", the very extensive monthly update on world-wide airline and airliner changes
- 3) "Overseas Registers", providing unsurpassed information on the world's civil register changes
- 4) "Display Diary", detailing the aircraft present at displays and museums around the world
- 5) Military Aviation News, stagings, deployments, news, at home and abroad
- 6) Deliveries, aircraft passing through Europe on delivery

AEROMILITARIA is the quarterly military historical journal, devoted to RAF and Commonwealth Air Forces, profusely illustrated and A4-size.

ARCHIVE is the civil companion to Aeromilitaria, looking back nostalgically at the civil scene of bygone years, with production histories, complete registers, superb photographs and more besides, again in A4-size.

Countless other benefits also come with membership of Air-Britain - for example access to our INFORMATION SERVICE and to the BLACK & WHITE and COLOUR SLIDE LIBRARIES, opportunities to TRAVEL overseas at reasonable cost to visit foreign airfields, aircraft factories and museums, and to enter PHOTOGRAPHIC and AIRCRAFT RECOGNITION contests, etc.

All this and still more comes with your Air-Britain membership . . .

Run voluntarily for over 30 years by dedicated enthusiasts like you, Air-Britain gives what we are often told is the best overall aviation coverage of any society. Over 12,000 enthusiasts who have become members cannot be wrong, so why not join them?

Membership details are available from Dept. M, 208 Stock Road, Billericay, Essex CM12 0SH, England. (Enclose 50p for sample Digest and News).
