Fancy That -- Hayle Gibson Stillwell & RDC Dancingtothelead Top Rodeo San Diego

By Tanya Randall

National Finals Rodeo qualifier and newly crowned California Circuit Champion Hayle Gibson Stillwell and RDC Dancingtothelead ("Fancy") padded their rodeo war chest with a $26,750 championship at Rodeo San Diego, an invitational event held January 17-19 in Petco Park, home of major league baseball's San Diego Padres.

"I'm excited," said the Redcrest, California, barrel racer. "We've got a good little summer rodeo fund started!"

Stillwell missed out on San Diego last year because it fell on top of the American Semifinals.

"I actually ended up not going to the Semifinals, so I shouldn't have skipped it," she chuckled. "I was not going to miss it again! "It's such a cool rodeo. There's so much that goes into it. The energy is incredible. The crowd is loud. There's nowhere to escape from the lights and noise. It's a lot to take. But gosh, what a cool rodeo, being inside that stadium. A lot of cool, crazy adventure goes into that rodeo but that's what makes it so much fun."

Stillwell has a talented trailer of horses with her NFR star Buncha Dinero ("Piper") being her No. 1, but she also has Fancy, who is equally talented and helped position Stillwell for many of the opportunities in which Piper capitalized. She chose Fancy for San Diego to give Piper more rest.

"Since it wasn't sanctioned by the WPR, I figured it was a good place to go and get some confidence on (Fancy) and get some runs under our belt," said Stillwell, who ran Fancy two weeks prior in the second round of the California Circuit Finals for her first run in a long while.

Stillwell and Fancy were third in the first round and won the second round. They advanced to the Eight Man Round on money won and advanced again adding to their total with a third-place tie with last year's champions Jordan Driver and Judge JB Cash. The top four in money won advanced to the championship final.

Between the Eight Man and Finals, Stillwell really wanted to go back to her trailer in a separate area but didn't, because she didn't want to rely on the trailer shuttle to get back to the arena.

"I almost missed my run in the Eight Man," she admitted. "I was waiting and they were loading one of the (shuttle) trailers and it was kind of full so I just stayed back at my trailer, thinking I would wait for the next one. I walked my bucket up to where the (shuttle) trailer parks and waited and waited, and no one ever came. I started freaking out. I could hear they were on the steer wrestling and it goes steer wrestling, team roping, barrels.

"Luckily, I called Buck Sprague, Megan's husband, and he answered his phone, which is funny because he never answers his phone. Thank goodness, he did. 'You need to tell the trailer guys to come get me!' They came and got me. I was saddled and cinched up, all ready to go, I jumped out of the trailer, and they were on the last team ropers, and I was second out in the barrels! Luckily less is more for her, I was able to walk some circles, lope a couple of laps and we went, which was great because we didn't have time to think about it!"

"Surprisingly, Fancy stood in (the stadium area) really quiet, was able to relax and rest a leg in between those two runs, which was awesome," she said. "And she came in clutch for the finals."

Bred by Erin Chrisman, Fancy, 9, is by Lead The Field out of the Dash Ta Fame mare Kari Dancer. Stillwell purchased the mare as a yearling for $5,700 at the 2018 BFA Sale. Fancy won the prestigious 2022 West Coast Barrel Racing Finals as a futurity horse. In 2024, she carried Stillwell to the championship round of Rodeo Houston.

“I had just lost BB (Fling N Fortune) and she was the only one I had to run (at Houston),” Stillwell recalled. “Those were her first runs coming back from her fractured coffin bone that she got the summer before at Spanish Fork. She was on a roll and went into the summer like a house on fire. Then we fell at Reno and that set us back.”

Complications from that 2024 fall at Reno plagued the mare and left her with a diaphragm issue that made it difficult for her to breathe. Thankfully, an osteopath was able to get Fancy comfortable again, but she still needed time to get her confidence back in the arena.

“It took until now to get her 100 percent comfortable and confident,” Stillwell said. “She feels great and is ready to roll. We’ve got her feeling good and dialed in again. Her confidence is back, which has been the main thing we’ve been trying to do. I’m just so excited and proud of her for stepping up and doing that without having run a whole lot last year.”

After finishing No. 4 in the 2025 WPRA World Standings, Stillwell is headed to Texas for the winter rodeos. Her first stop is Fort Worth.

Extreme Consistency Nets Brandie Inman & Rodeo Short Go IPRA World Championship

By Tanya Randall

A reserve championship at the International Finals Rodeo, held January 15-18 at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma, netted Brandie Inman the International Professional Rodeo Association Barrel Racing World Championship.

The 2024 IPRA Rookie of the Year and her 10-year-old gelding Rodeo Short Go (“Maverick”) overcame an $11,000 deficit to win the title with $46,089 on the season.

They were extremely consistent at the Lazy E, turning in runs of 16.270, 16.281, 16.279 and 16.300, respectively.

“It was crazy,” said Inman, who hails from Nowata, Oklahoma. “I couldn’t believe it myself!”

They placed second in the first round, third in the next two and finished the IFR with a round win to earn $15,742.

“My goal was to win the IPRA this year, but I was still $11,000 behind going into the Finals,” she said. “I knew that my horse would do well in that arena. He did well there last year—he placed in three rounds and won second in the average—so I was pretty confident, but I knew I had to win a lot to be able to catch up.

“I just tried to let him go in there and do his job. He’s definitely a free runner.

He needs some help at the first barrel sometimes with those long runs and a lot of room behind it. I feel like we never did get a really good first barrel. Thankfully, he’s plenty fast enough that if he makes a mistake he can still get in there and clock.”

Inman purchased Maverick, by Badgers Rodeo Red out of the Paint mare Thiskittycanpurr, by Koltons Mr Judy, in 2021.

“He had gate problems,” she explained. “He would rare up at the gate and refuse to go in, but he was always nice on the pattern. Honestly, I bought him because he was cheap and I thought I could fix his gate issues and resell him.”

She eventually sold Maverick, but the gate issue resurfaced and she got him back.

“I thought, ‘Well, I’ll just keep him and run him some,’” she mused. “Honestly the rest is history. He just started winning.”

Inman’s journey to the IPRA started with her qualification to the Women’s Rodeo World Championships in 2024.

“I knew that the money there counted for the IPRA,” she said.

“I had already gone to a few rodeos that were IPRA sanctioned, but I didn’t buy my card until I knew I made it (to the WRWC). It was a happy accident that I happened to make the IFR and another happy

THE RUNDOWN w/Brandie Inman

Rodeo Short Go (APHA) “Maverick” 2016 Solid Sorrel Gelding

BIT: L&W Short Shank locked lifter with a kickback curb; three-piece mouth

SADDLE: Yocham’s Custom Leather barrel saddle

SADDLE PAD: 5 Star

LEG GEAR: Polo wraps

SHOEING: Steel on four; shod by Frank Pohlmann. “He ran barefoot up until the middle of this year, and I actually trimmed him myself. He was getting a little bit sore this summer and my vet Katie Lesh at Stillwater Equine wanted me to put shoes on him.”

FEED: Mid-America custom blend

HAY: Alfalfa and prairie hay

SUPPLEMENTS: Advanced Equine Nutrition Complete Plus, Mag Plus and Gut Plus, Forco, wheat germ oil

ALTERNATIVE THERAPIES: Body work from Austin Meier (Bar XIX Therapy), MagnaWave

TRAINING/CONDITIONING REGIMEN: I pretty well pony him off the side-by-side or another horse. I think he goes about two miles, maybe less, just long trotting in the pasture. I rarely ride him. I did actually ride him a little before the Finals this week just to get him soft in the face. For the most part, he doesn’t see a saddle or a barrel until he goes to the rodeo.”

SPONSORS: Advanced Equine Nutrition, Bar XIX Therapy-Austin Meier, Broke Betty’s Lariats & Leads, Yocham’s Custom Leather

THANKS: Husband Cody. “I don’t get emotional when I talk about winning the world, but I do get emotional when I talk about him and how supportive he is to me,” Inman said. “It wouldn’t be possible without him. He takes care of everything around here when I’m gone and never complains about it. He keeps pushing me to keep going.” Also thanks to the IPRA barrel racing director Nicole Helm and her team, the IPRA for a great show and to her support team of family and friends.

accident that I won Rookie of the Year.”

In 2025, Inman made the IPRA her main focus. She said she tried to stay closer to home but went hard when she could.

“I started in the spring, making a few trips out East because nothing had started up around here,” she explained. “Most of the IPRA rodeos in Oklahoma and the surrounding states don’t start up until May or June, really more June. When things started up around here, I tried to stay closer to home because I did work a fulltime job and I have other horses and things like that at home. Once things were slowing up around here, I did make a couple more trips out East to win a little bit more money. I went hard. I went pretty much every weekend, but I didn’t go up North to the fair rodeos because that ground doesn’t suit my horse.”

Inman recently took early retirement in her job at Conoco Phillips to ride, train and sell horses.

“I’ve always done a little bit of that on the side but trying to work I didn’t really have the opportunity to do that as much as I used to.”

She said she doesn’t have any definite plans for 2026 other than go to places where her horse does best.

“This year I don’t really know what I’m going to do,” Inman said. “I plan on trying to make the IPRA Finals again. I really enjoy the Finals and the payout is great. We still have some associations around here that I will get my card for. I should qualify for the Premier Women’s Rodeo (formerly WRWC). I did get my (WPRA) permit this year to hit some circuit rodeos around here.”

Winning Tune for A Frenchmans Ledoux & Taylor Jane Gardner at Montana Circuit Finals Rodeo

By Tanya Randall

When Canadian Taylor Jane Gardner switched her focus from the Canadian pro rodeos to the Montana Circuit, there were 21 rodeos left for the season. Along with winning enough money to be in the Top 12, as a non-resident, Gardner needed to make 19 rodeos just to be eligible for the circuit finals.

The all-night drives and multiple rodeos in one day culminated with a Montana Circuit Finals Rodeo Championship in Great Falls, January 15-17.

“Making all that happen, getting qualified and being at the first circuit finals that I ever qualified for and winning the average is a complete fairy tale story,” said Gardner, who pocketed $8,076. “I’m in awe. I’m just so grateful, thankful. I’m beyond grateful.”

Gardner designated Montana as her circuit since she lives just an hour north of the U.S. border—“there’s a lot of rodeos in Montana that are closer for me to go to,” she noted—but was mainly rodeoing in Canada when Lisa Warfield suggested that she get to some circuit rodeos.

“If Lisa hadn’t called me...it was like the one decision snow-balled into so many opportunities,” said Gardner, who hails from Purple Springs, Alberta.

At the MCFR, she and her stallion A Frenchmans Ledoux finished fourth in the first round, won the second round and were one out of the money in the third to win the aggregate and join year-end champion Ashley Day at the NFR Open in Colorado Springs this July.

“They all feel like a blur,” she said of her runs. “I honestly feel like I was behind him the whole way. He was the all star of the team and kept the team together. I don’t feel like I was of any use to him.”

Gardner said loved the challenge of the Four Seasons arena with its small, angular setup.

“It was a blast!” she said. “He handled it so well. He knew what he was there for. He was just so honest through his whole runs. “I’m still in awe It hasn’t really sunk in what we’ve just done. He wasn’t the fastest horse there, but he was the most consistent and honest. I’m just so glad that we were able to stay smooth and clean!”

Gardner purchased Ledoux as a long yearling from his breeders Traci and Kevin MacDonald. The 12-year-old Frenchmans Guy son is out of the Marthas Six Moons mare Sierras Six Moons. She found him by following a Facebook post from someone seeking Frenchmans Guy-bred prospects in Canada.

“I thought, ‘Oh, this would be a good post for me to follow,’” noted Gardner. “I noticed my friend Traci MacDonald had posted this yearling stud colt and I thought I needed to message her, like yesterday, to see about this guy.”

MacDonald had discovered that Ledoux had a bone chip and had left him a colt in case the chip prevented or limited his performance career.

“She didn’t want a stud, but didn’t want to geld him, just in case,” Gardner explained. “I jumped on the opportunity. There was just something about him. He needed to be mine.”

Ledoux proved to be quite a versatile performer. He competed in the ranch riding at the AQHA World Show, placed in the Top 3 in the heeling at the Royal Crown his derby year and won the British Columbia Rodeo Association Finals in 2022.

“He’s the most amazing thing,” she said. “I didn’t really know if I was going to push promoting him as a stud. I had a stud before, and I’ve dabbled in raising some of my own. He was just so easy to be around. He kind of proved that he could (stay a stallion). I’ve always joked that he’s the wrong color”—sorrel as opposed to palomino—“to get a lot of breedings, so I’ve just been really happy to breed a few of my own mares and raise really nice colts that I’m enjoying riding. His babies are a lot of fun to ride. They’re smart and talented and very easy to work with.”

Gardner grew up on the Douglas Lake Ranch, the largest working ranch in Canada. Her parents weren’t horse people but got her started with English riding.

“They were at the point of getting me into (English) competitions, but we went to a little rodeo,” she said. “I saw all the girls warming up behind the announcer's stand and then watched the barrel racing. I said that's what I want to do. There was a big shift in what my training was. I started going to Little Britches rodeos when I was 6 and worked my way to high school rodeo and the amateur circuit. I actually filled my permit for the Canadian Pro Rodeos when I was 13. I've been rodeoing a really long time and learning what not to do through the school of hard knocks. Finally it's all starting to come together, especially this weekend."

Gardner said she wants to experience more rodeos in 2026 and just entered Rapid City, South Dakota.

"I feel like in 2026 I want to do more adventures," she said. "Ledoux is a pretty good traveling partner. I want to go try, have some fun and make new memories."

Willie Horzepa & Panamas Diva Sweep First Frontier Circuit Titles

By Tanya Randall

Professional horsewoman and riding instructor Willie Horzepa and Panamas Diva won the First Frontier Circuit Finals Rodeo, held January 15-17 in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, to claim $10,677 and the year-end championship.

"I had a small intuition that if I kept my act together there would be a small possibility (to win the yearend)," said Horzepa. "Luckily, it somehow worked out. We won the average, the year end, had the fastest time, and I was voted best dressed. It was a text book situation really."

The victory also gave Horzepa the rare honor of having won two prestigious titles in distinctly different disciplines at the same venue. As a junior rider, she won the pony division at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show and has successfully competed there in the 1.30 (4'3") and 1.40 meter (4'7") jumper classes the past three years.

"It's amazing," said Horzepa, who hails from Millstone Township, New Jersey. "To say you competed in both, let alone had success doing both of them, is so great. I'm not someone to say that I'm proud, but it's a goal I've tried to achieve. To have won two major titles in the same building is really something that I will cherish."

Her 12-year-old Panama Edition, Mega Tee Moon mare Diva, whom she's had since 2018, made her work for the barrel racing title.

"My goal each year is to have clean runs, and on her, that's a little hard," said Horzepa. "She's definitely the kind of horse that will really take you to a barrel if you give her the opportunity, so you really have to ride 100 percent every time."

They were second in the first round.

"She tried to go at (the second barrel) and I had to fight with her a little bit," Horzepa explained. "I had to go to the outside rein and do things that you don't really want to do. We did what we had to do to get it done."

Horzepa said Diva tried her harder at the second barrel in the second round, but they managed to place third.

"She was actually worse about it," she said, "and I actually ended up putting my hand down on the barrel to keep it standing up. Luck was in my favor there."

For their third run, Horzepa switched Diva's bridle from a Perfect Bit with a noseband to a Martha Josey Go Round.

"That seemed to definitely help," said Horzepa. "She ran the fastest time of the rodeo that night. It was her smoothest run, very effortless for her. She was clean and honest."

They had another smooth run in the fourth round but got caught in the ground at the third, which cost them a little time, but they still managed to win the aggregate.

"It was a really clean, respectable run that kept us up there in the average," Horzepa said. "I was pleased with her."

Karissa Landis, who finished second in the aggregate and year end, will join Horzepa as a qualifier to the NFR Open, this July in Colorado Springs. It will be Horzepa and Diva's second trip, having represented the First Frontier in 2020 when the circuit championships were held in Greeley.

Horzepa was drawn to horses at an early age and started taking English riding lessons at 3. She was introduced to Western riding and speed events through 4H.

"I was a lucky kid," she said. Her parents had a Christmas tree farm and had the land to have horses. "I rode English initially and 4H introduced the ability to do both disciplines. I even drove carriages in 4H. You could do everything. Throughout my teenage years we had local races and NBHAs, things of that nature. I think being well rounded is important."

Horzepa also brings that versatility to her students at her A&E Show Stables. While the majority of her clientele are hunters and jumpers, about quarter or more are Western lessons. She may be hauling eight to 12 barrel racers to a jackpot, or she may be headed to Florida with a contingent of hunters and jumpers. She had some riders who, like herself, do both disciplines.

Thankfully, she's been able to balance the horse shows like the bigger circuits in Florida during the winter with her rodeo schedule that's primarily in the summer.

"I build it into my schedule to the best of my abilities," she said.

“What rodeos do, that’s a blessing for me, is that it’s an evening activity. I can still horse show during the day. Many times I’ll travel from horse shows to rodeos. Sometimes I even take my barrel horse to the horse show and get her a stall at the facility and drive to a rodeo and come back to the horse show, because we horse people are crazy like that!”

The greatest fear in the world is of the opinions of others. And the moment you are unafraid of the crowd you are no longer a sheep, you become a lion. A great roar arises in your heart, the roar of freedom.

Raffle to Recovery for Anita Ellis

Courtesy of Double J Saddlery

As many of you know, on November 15, 2025, Anita Ellis suffered a traumatic brain injury while seasoning her futurity prospect. This came at what should have been one of the most joyful moments of her career—after qualifying 8th for her very first NFR, during her first full year of competition.

Because of the injury, Anita was forced to withdraw from the Finals. It was a heartbreaking turn, but one met with an outpouring of prayers, encouragement, and love from this incredible community.

Anita continues to attend ongoing doctor visits and therapy for TBI-related symptoms, and we are so grateful to share that she is healing. Recovery is a journey, and every step forward is one worth celebrating.

We originally planned to launch this raffle earlier, but chose to wait so as not to distract from the excitement of the NFR. Now, with intention and purpose, we are moving forward to help support Anita during this season of recovery.

To help offset the tremendous medical and therapy expenses involved, we are raffling the saddle we built specifically for Anita for the Finals—a saddle she has not yet been able to ride. This saddle will be replaced with a brand-new saddle built especially for Anita once she is able to return to riding.

Saddle Details: 13.5" Pozzi Pro Lightweight; Value: $5,385

View the saddle here: <https://doublejsaddlery.com/collections/pozzi-feather-light-weights/products/sbpl05-pozzi-pro-light-weight-w-srs-copy>

Raffle Information: Tickets are $100 each; 100% of proceeds go directly to Anita. Double J Saddlery will absorb all transaction fees.

Winner Options: Receive this exact saddle OR Apply the full value toward any saddle we build, in any style, seat size, or fit. In either case, Anita will receive a new custom saddle built just for her. Enter as many times as you'd like—we are praying for a tremendous response and a powerful show of support for Anita.

• The raffle will remain open through the end of the Dallas Western Market, January 24, 2026.

From the bottom of our hearts, thank you for standing with Anita. Your prayers, generosity, and encouragement mean more than words can express.

Young Guns League Open Stallion Enrollment, Spotlights the Industry's Next Generation of Proven Sires

In an industry where stallion success is often measured over decades, the Young Guns League is shifting the focus to what matters first: early performance. The program is now accepting stallion enrollments, offering a dedicated platform designed exclusively for junior stallions' offspring—allowing them to earn significant payouts without competing against the progeny of long-established sires.

The mission of the Young Guns League is to encourage growth and genetic diversity within the barrel racing industry by promoting the progeny of young stallions and giving breeders an additional opportunity for substantial payouts when they breed to a Young Guns League junior sire. 2026 will be the 3rd year of Young Guns, and it has successfully helped launch a set of junior stallions to proven producers in an expedited manner.

"This is truly my favorite set of classes to watch, and I purposefully select a Young Guns League stallion to breed to each year," said Kayla Jones, marketing director of Pink Buckle, Ruby Buckle, and Young Guns League. "Last year, we had 85 derby horses and 54 futurity horses run for half a million dollars. It's a very limited class, yet it still rewards huge checks while helping spotlight the next generation of champion sires. I hope all junior sires take advantage of this program."

Eligibility is intentionally time-limited. A stallion may be enrolled in the Young Guns League until his oldest foal crop reaches eight years old. Once that threshold is met, the stallion ages out of the program and is no longer considered a Young Guns stallion—ensuring the focus remains squarely on emerging sires.

Participation in the Young Guns League offers meaningful advantages, including increased visibility during a stallion's formative years, added credibility through performance-based results, and enhanced value for breeders and mare owners seeking young sires with proven early success and access to major payouts.

Progeny of enrolled stallions have the opportunity to compete each October during the Pink Buckle, where a guaranteed $525,000 Young Guns League payout is awarded—$275,000 in the Derby and $250,000 in the Futurity.

Enrollment is open to junior stallions that meet program requirements, allowing stallion owners to align their breeding programs with a forward-thinking model that rewards early performance and creates high-impact opportunities for a stallion's first performing crops.

HEADIN' FOR HOME

by Sherry Morrison // Triple M (Mike Morrison Ministries)

Mike asked us in Sunday School what our favorite scripture was. Two thirds of us had one. The one that gave us comfort, the first one we memorized, the one that covers a weakness we have. One third of the class didn't have one. Then he challenged us to write down our top ten scriptures...how in the world is that even possible???? LOL!

Well, really, for me, it seems I need a different one EVERY SINGLE DAY!

Today I may need help with a relationship. Walking in love is important when you want to slap someone!

Or maybe I'm going to get on that rebounder and healing is what I need when I get OFF the thing!

Or my horse has completely forgotten what it has known for years. Wisdom is essential for that.

OR I backed into something, again, and I need finances to fix it... hopefully before I have to tell Mike.

My friends, God HAS the answer for everything because He IS THE ANSWER FOR EVERYTHING! Get those scriptures in your heart. They are an ever present help in time of need!

Mike and Sherry Morrison pastor "Church at the Barn" in Gillette, WY. They also travel to other areas ministering at barrel races, ranches, rodeos, churches and home Bible studies.
