*mid-tier/
intermediate* designer

That team player whose DNA is hardcoded with creativity, energy and positivity!

That adventurous, fun, mid-tier designer who delivers their craft with passion, flare, excellence and innovation!

We are looking for that crucial new person

to add to our team!

Our missing maestro will be able to:

- // Create masterpieces in InDesign
- // Run wild in PowerPoint (or at least be open to learning how to jog)
- // Exceed our client's objectives through original and innovative design solutions
- // Collaborate with enthusiasm and a laugh, in a team environment
- // Forge amazing client and colleague relationships
- // Present their work with passion and flare
- // Prepare finalised artwork for production output
- // Learn, connect, teach, and mentor other designers
- // Keep up-to-date with the latest technology and software developments
- // ...remain cool as a cucumber under pressure

phew! sound like you?

If it does... drop us a line at factory@glue.net.nz.

Subject to your application being successful, an interview along with skills assessment will be required. Please note only suitable candidates will be responded to.
